Hey Barbara,

Here's the expanded list of historic and last operators just like the one I showed you this morning. Right now its grouped and highlighted via mine ID but it can be sorted however way you want it to.

U(E)-T:

What would you all think about using this spreadsheet to keep track of our research? We can put it on the share drive.

I would add a few more columns to capture other places we may look:

Sec of State
AutoTrackXP
PACER
Corporate Affiliations
SEC/Edgar

And a code for results:

N/R - No result - when a search is negative (no hits)

And I think we could put a summary of results in the indicated column, for example--
(Stephen, what does the "x/S" mean?)

Sec State
71 157	Todilto Exploration & Development	NR	NR	x/S
Inactive due to revoked

And let's highlight or other distinguish the mine number in the left column that we are working with in this first cut.

Hey team,

I've done a little more searching and found a few more info. on the other companies. Though it isn't much more, here it is. The 'S' under the heading internet indicates i pulled information from the New Mexico Secretary of State website.
